Just a short update...

It was lovely to see so many of you at the Harvest Service last Friday. Thank you for your support. It is always lovely to see the Reception class do their first performance. 😊

NSPCC

The children had an informative day and between us all and OPT-IN match funding we were able to donate £128, half of which was match funded by OPT-IN, to the NSPCC. Thank you

School funding

As you may or may not know that there have been many discussions regarding school funding. I have added a circular letter on to the website, which we have been asked to publish for further information.

Vision and Values parent workshop

Thank you for all the input into this and for listening to our rationale, not only behind this, but also how we are moving the children on, upskilling them for their future.

School uniform

Having heard only last week about Little Sprogs closing down we have looked into other alternatives for school uniform. I was due to meet with uniform wise this week, but the meeting has had to be rescheduled. We have also looked at what Tesco can offer us. I will keep you informed as and when decisions have been made.

Roots to Food

Once again Thurrock catering service are offering us a roots to food workshop where the children will get to work in groups to create a meal. This is being held on Friday 9th November. After school there will be a "parent taster session" of the school meals. Please bring your child/ren along to taste what is on offer for lunchtimes.

Friday

Not only are we looking forward to half term, but also Class 6's assembly. 😊

Talking of half term...

School is closed to the children for two weeks, so they can recuperate ready for the second half of the autumn term (dare I say leading up to Christmas)! We will all be returning on Monday 5th November. Stay safe and enjoy the longer break. 😊

Yours sincerely

Miss S Jones – Headteacher
